Creation Day 6-Creation of Adam

Adam was created on Creation Day 6 of Creation Week and lived 930 years and 183 days, using DFC dating. Adam is the father of Seth and male ancestor of all human beings. Like the other parts of the created order, Adam and Eve are blessed by God and instructed to: "Be fruitful and multiply" and "fill the earth". Adam and Eve are also instructed to subdue the earth and have dominion over all of God's Creation. The phrase, "according to its kind", is applied to all the birds, fish, and land animals, but not to Adam and Eve. Adam and Eve are the only part of Creation made in "His own image; in the image of God He created them".

Genesis 3:1-21

The Temptation and Fall of Man

The events of the Fall, and other events before the birth of Seth, are all estimated EST dates. Some historians have placed this event immediately after the Creation of Adam and Eve. Others have placed this event as much as one hundred years later. Considering the depth of the fallen nature of mankind, this author and others have estimated this date is about two weeks after Creation Week. In this part of Scripture, we are given a very clear picture of Satan's strategy for leading humans down the path to disobedience to God and His Word. Genesis 3:1 records the first question in recorded history, "Has God indeed said, 'You shall not eat of every tree of the garden?'" One of Satan's most effective tools is to get us to question God's Word. Notice how Satan twists the question to imply that God would not allow Eve to eat from "every tree of the garden" instead of just the one tree in the "midst" of the garden that was prohibited. God had been very specific in His instructions to Adam in Genesis 2:17 where it states: "Of every tree of the garden you may freely eat; but of the tree of knowledge of good and evil you shall not eat, for in the day that you eat of it you shall surely die". These instructions are obviously given by Adam to Eve as seen in her statement to Satan in Genesis 3:2-3. After planting the seed of doubt in Eve's mind about what God had actually said, Satan then turns his attention to casting doubt on God's motives in giving instructions about the deadly consequences of disobedience to His Word.

The resulting first and still most popular of Satan's lies, "You will not surely die", is found in Genesis 3:4. Every lie related to the theory of Evolution is some form of questioning, lying, or twisting of God's Word in order to persuade people to foolishly think that there are no serious or eternal consequences for disobedience to His Word. It is easy to ignore the consequences of disobedience to God's Word as soon as you start doubting what He said. Those who think that the "days" of Creation Week mean something different than ordinary 24-hour days have fallen into this deception that comes straight from Hell. Once you begin to think of death and dying and millions of years of evolutionary "change by chance", why would you need a Savior from the effects of the Fall? If Genesis 1:1 is not real history, in what chapter and verse do you think God starts telling the Truth? This is always a good question to ask if you are listening to one of the many false teachers telling you the "real" meaning of the Book of Genesis and describes the days of Creation Week as something different than ordinary 24-hour days. Satan's plan has always been to deceive people into thinking God's Word does not mean what it says, that there will be no serious consequences for disobedience to His Word, and that God does not have your best interests in mind when making His laws.

When Adam and Eve fell into disobedience, God then turned His attention to the preservation of a fallen world that was always plunging toward death, disease and decay. Since He is a Holy God and "the wages of sin is death (Romans 6:23) ", God then began the process of Redemption. Since the penalty for sin is both eternal physical and spiritual death, Scripture begins to record the history of Salvation in Genesis 3:15 where it states, "He shall bruise your head, And you shall bruise His heel". This is the first mention of the "He" who would bring Salvation. The future redeemer would bruise the head of Satan which would be a fatal blow. He, the Deliverer, would only suffer a bruised heel. This is very likely the first reference to the Crucifixion since the crucified prisoners were referred to as "the prisoners with the bruised heel". When crucified prisoners were taken down from a cross, only one heel was bruised having supported their body weight by one nail driven into the feet placed one over the other.

This research will clearly show that belief in any form of Evolution is contrary to the stated text in Scripture. Belief in any form of an evolutionary lie is inconsistent with a belief in the God of the Bible as a totally Sovereign Creator.

Genesis 3:22-24

Adam and Eve are Cast Out of the Garden

When God casts Adam and Eve out of the Garden of Eden, this is probably an act of mercy and protection in addition to being a consequence of disobedience to God's clear command. Before creating Eve in Genesis 2:17, God clearly explained to Adam the consequences of eating from the tree of the knowledge of good and evil when He says, "you shall surely die". Fortunately for Adam and Eve and the rest of mankind, the resulting death from disobedience was not immediate. According to Genesis 5:4-5, Adam would live a total of 930 years, and would father many sons and daughters. Now that Adam and Eve were in a fallen state of sin, it is conceivable that if they ate from the Tree of Life, they would live forever in this fallen state. Obviously that was not God's plan. It was God's plan to begin providing a way of Salvation so that redeemed mankind could live forever in heaven with Him. God removes them from the Garden and they begin living with the penalty of disobedience to His Word. Fortunately for mankind, it would take Adam over 900 years before he would experience the physical penalty of death. Adam and Eve will experience living in a fallen world while still experiencing God's Grace. Adam and Eve at this point now know the difference between Good and Evil. God knows Good and Evil due to His Holiness and Omniscience. Evil is not a part of God nor is it generated from Him. In contrast, Adam and Eve know Good and Evil by experience and will spend the rest of their lives learning God's Word means what He says. There are consequences when we disobey His commands. It could be argued that Adam and Eve were naïve about the consequences of sin since they had never witnessed any form of death prior to the Fall. This event of being removed from the Garden of Eden should give us all reason to make sure we understand what God's Word says and what it means by what it says. Being ignorant or naïve about His Word does not remove us from the consequences of sin.

Genesis 4:1

Birth of Cain-Son of Adam and Eve

Cain appears to be the firstborn of the "secular line" of Adam and Eve. Seth would be the firstborn of the "sacred line" through Adam and Eve. The "secular line" refers to the descendants of Cain. Many of Cain's descendants are named in order of birth, without giving the age of the father at the time of the heir's birth. There is no way to precisely track the descendants of Cain in a Timeline that is connected back to Creation Week or any other dated event in Scripture. Those who follow in the secular line are generally historic enemies of their brothers in the "sacred line". Jacob and Esau, Isaac and Ishmael, would be good examples of family lines that are frequent enemies in history. In contrast, the precise number of years in the sacred line can be traced from Creation through King David to the birth of Jesus. The sacred line of Jesus, through Joseph, the husband of Mary, is found in Matthew 1:1-17. This unique section of Scripture uses 14 consecutive 40-year spans for connecting generations, rather than the actual birth order of father and son. The sacred line of Jesus, through his mother Mary, can be found in Luke 3:23-38. The date of the birth of Cain is the first EDFC (estimated Date from Creation) since the number of years from Creation until this event is not stated. This is the DFC date for one year from Creation Day 3 in 4115 BC. See Chapter Twelve titled, "Types of Dated Events in Scripture Explained", for an explanation of DFC, EDFC, and other dated events.

Genesis 4:3-4Cain and Abel Make an Offering to the Lord

Cain and Abel present an offering to the Lord. Cain is estimated to be 30 years old when this event happens. Both Cain and Abel had apparently received instructions on making a sacrificial offering to God. These instructions are not recorded in the text of Scripture. It does appear that one way God measures loyalty and obedience in a person's heart is by the attitude of giving to Him. Cain was a tiller of the ground and Abel took care of sheep. Like many farmers today, Cain and Abel probably raised both crops and animals but tended to specialize in one or the other so they would be able to offer either type of sacrifice. Both occupations appear to be respectable to God. It is the condition of the servant's heart that is of concern to God. Like all DFC and EDFC dates from this point on, the Calendar Day Number is one-fifth of the number of years since Creation Day 3 of Creation Week. Genesis 4:4-7; Hebrews 11:4The Lord Does Not Respect Cain's Offering

Hebrews 11:4 records that Abel's offering was an act of faith in giving God the best of what he had produced in the form of the firstborn of his flock. Both brothers knew what God expected from them. Abel was obedient to God and Cain was not. When Cain realized his offering was not acceptable to God, he became very angry. Instead of repenting of his sin, Cain was disappointed and angry with God. God warns Cain that if he remains disobedient, sin will crouch at the door like a lion waiting to jump on its prey. Cain does not heed God's warning and sin takes its tragic course.

The Family of Cain Moves to Nod

Cain and his family are banished from the area where it is assumed some of his family members still reside. He moves to Nod which is described as "east of Eden". Here he would build a city named after his son, Enoch, and would beget many children. This city called Enoch would thrive until the events of Noah's Flood when the world population may have been comparable to what it is today. The dating of these events related to Cain and Abel is very difficult since no number of years is given. These events could have been up to a hundred years later but are likely to have occurred before the DFC date of the birth of Seth, 130 years after Creation Week.

Birth of Seth-Son of Adam

Seth is the firstborn in the "sacred line" or "blessed" heirs of Adam and Eve. The lineage of Jesus can be traced back through Seth to Adam. The sacred line of Jesus, through Joseph, the husband of Mary, is found in Matthew 1:1-17. This unique section of Scripture uses fourteen consecutive forty-year spans for connecting generations, rather than the actual birth order of father and son. The sacred line of Jesus, through his mother, Mary, can be found in Luke 3:23-38. In contrast, the "secular line" refers to the descendants of Cain. Many of Cain's descendants are named in order of birth, without giving the age of the father at the time of the heir's birth. As previously stated, there is no way to track the secular line descendants in a precise Timeline. Most of the dates of events in the secular line must be estimated (EDFC) dates. Those who follow in the secular line are generally historic enemies of their brothers in the "sacred line". Jacob and Esau, Isaac and Ishmael, would be good examples of family lines that are frequent enemies in history. Those who follow in the sacred line of Seth can be easily tracked in connected chronologies of years throughout Scripture and given DFC dates.

The birth of Seth is the first DFC date that can be accurately measured from the number of years from Creation given in the Biblical text. The DFC date of birth for Seth is 130 years and 26 days after Creation Day 3 of Creation Week. Seth is born 130 years and 23 days after the creation of his parents, Adam and Eve on Creation Day 6 in 4115 BC. Seth is the father of Enosh. Genesis 5:21-27Death of Methuselah-Son of Enoch at 969

The DFC date for the death of Methuselah is 969 years and 194 days from his DFC date of birth. This day is also the 600th birthday of Noah using DFC dating. The events of The Flood seem to be triggered with the death of Methuselah. Noah's family enters the Ark forty-seven days after Methuselah's death. If the DFC is an exact date of an event, this DFC date seems to solve a long standing question as to whether or not Methuselah was killed by The Flood since he dies in the same year as the start of Noah's Flood. The question remains open as to whether or not the DFC date is the exact date of an event or does the DFC date function like the marks on a ruler giving an approximate date when the exact date is not stated. On this same date, exactly one year later, Noah takes the covering off the Ark according to Genesis 8:13. Arphaxad, the son of Shem, would be born one year and one day after Noah takes the covering off the Ark. Arphaxad is born two years after the DFC date of Methuselah's death (Genesis 11:10). CD#331 is the DFC date and EDFC date for events happening between the years 2461 BC and the years 2457 BC.
